

Aloha! My name is Lino, and I am an endemic reef fish. Endemic means I am found only here in Hawaii! Since I am a reef fish, I enjoy swimming among rocks and coral near the shore.

I swim in a close group with my other aholehole friends, called a school. My silvery color helps me camouflage or blend in with the waves.

I am a nocturnal feeder so I eat at night and my favorite foods are crustaceans, such as crabs and shrimp.
