

Koa Bug

Aloha! My name is Ka'Ōnohi, and I am a Koa Bug! I am endemic to Hawai'i, which means I am found nowhere else in the world! I live in a'ali'i bushes and koa trees. Because I have no stinky smell like my cousins that live on the mainland, I am also known as a "stinkless stink bug." Some call me the jewel of the forest as my body reflects all the beautiful colors of the rainbow. I have no mouth parts to bite or chew, but instead I suck up my food through a little tube.
